

A Doodie-Free Harrisonburg Is Easy.

Easy.

“Sparky is my little man. It’s not hard to make sure that I pick up after him when we go out. It’s best for everyone.”

-Velma Clark

It may seem like one little dog can’t hurt, but just one dog creates over 200 pounds of feces a year. The City of Harrisonburg estimates that there are over 10,000 dogs in the city. That means over 2 million pounds of feces annually. Taking care of your pet’s waste is an easy way to help keep the community healthy.

It’s Our Doodie.

go doodie-free: www.cleanstream.org

An Initiative of the City of Harrisonburg.